DUTIES OF POSITION (If this position is announced at multiple grade levels, these duties describe the full performance level; at lower grade levels the duties may vary slightly and will be performed under somewhat closer supervision.)

Several headquarters and regional offices are accepting applications for a variety of entry-level engineering and scientific positions. Actual duties will vary depending on the nature and grade level of the specific positions filled but generally will include duties that support the agency's mission of regulating the civilian use of nuclear power and nuclear materials. The NRC licenses nuclear facilities, as well as the possession, use, and disposal of nuclear materials; establishes
